

The T. A. Stewart Memorial Plaque

In memory of the late Mr. T. A. Stewart, an outstanding rose personality and former Editor of the Australian and New Zealand Rose Annual, the National Rose Societies of Australia and New Zealand have sponsored a memorial which has taken the form of a plaque to be known as The T. A. Stewart Memorial Plaque. This is to be awarded annually by a vote of the sponsoring Societies to one who has rendered outstanding service in the interest of the Rose.

The first recipient was Mr. Alister Clark, of "Glenara," Bulla, Victoria, who was the unanimous choice of all the Societies. Mr. Clark's contribution to the list of roses we love and grow is known throughout the whole of Australia and New Zealand, and also overseas. All rose lovers will agree with the decision to honour him with the first award of the plaque.
